OUR STORY

MauiWine began in 1974 when C. Pardee Erdman, owner of Ulupalakua Ranch, combined his love of wine with a deep commitment to agriculture. He planted a vineyard on the slopes of Haleakalā, believing that Maui's volcanic soil and the cool climate of upcountry could produce exciting wine from a unique location.

While waiting for the first harvest, he turned to the island's most abundant crop, pineapple, crafting sparkling wine that captured the spirit of the island. Guests loved it, inspiring the creation of Maui Blanc, a still pineapple wine, released in 1977. Early vineyard plantings of Carnelian led to a range of wines. Carnelian was later replaced by the 6 varietals we grow today: Syrah, Malbec, Grenache, Chenin Blanc, Viognier, and Gewürztraminer.

In 1990, Paula Hegele joined the team. By 1995, she was President, guiding MauiWine with a commitment and determination to build on what had been learned and keep moving forward. Under her leadership, the company set goals to grow high-quality grapes and produce wines that showcased their origin. Our journey and destination are a mix of history, adventure, and agricultural significance, welcoming guests from down the road and around the world.

In 2023, our vineyard earned an American Viticultural Area (AVA) designation. In 2021 we began our barrel aging program. These are milestones in a journey built on curiosity, persistence, and respect for the land.
